CENSUS OF IRELAND

FOR THE YEAR

1901.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY GEORGE HENRY, EARL CADOGAN, K.G.,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND,

&c.,

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

We the Commissioners appointed under the Census (Ireland) Act, 1900 (63 Vic, cap. 6), beg to submit to your Excellency the following Abstract of the information obtained by the Enumerators, as to the Population of Ireland, on the night of the 31st of March, 1901, which has been compiled in compliance with section 6 of the Act.

In presenting this Abstract we beg to state that the preparations for taking the Census were commenced in November, 1898, and that the plans for carrying out the work had been prepared, and all the preliminaries completed, when the Commission was appointed on 8th December, 1900.

The alterations in Administrative Areas made under the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, led to a large amount of preparatory work in connection with the Inquiry, a complete re-casting of the comparative statistics for previous Census periods being necessary.

The Country was divided for Census purposes into 208 Enumeration Districts, each under the supervision of a District Inspector of the Royal Irish Constabulary, or an Officer of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, to whom was assigned the duty of superintending the taking of the Census. These Superintendents of Enumeration comprised 202 Officers of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and 6 Officers of the Dublin Metropolitan Police. Each Superintendent had under his direction a certain number of Enumerators amounting in all to 3,941—viz., 3,790 Sergeants or Constables of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and 151 Sergeants or Constables of the Dublin Metropolitan Police.

We have much pleasure in stating that this organization has worked successfully, and that no serious difficulty has been experienced in the progress of the work of Enumeration.

All the necessary Forms and Instructions were issued so that they might be in the hands of the Superintendents before the 11th of March last, on which day it was directed that the parcels of Forms should be opened and the distribution commenced.

The distribution of the Forms was completed on the 30th of March, and their collection commenced on the 1st of April.

Each Enumerator on completing the collection of the Returns for his district proceeded to make a summary of the results. From these Summaries the following Report and accompanying Tables have been compiled.

This Report relates to the more important Territorial Divisions only and to the principal Cities and Towns.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

4,456,546 Persons (2,197,739 Males and 2,258,807 Females) were returned in the Enumerators' Summaries as constituting the population of Ireland on the night of Sunday, the 31st of last March—thus showing a decrease since 1891 of 248,204 persons, or 5·3 per cent—the decrease in the number of males was equal to 5·2 per cent., and in the number of females to 5·3 per cent. Persons.

DUBLIN CITY, &c.

Dublin City, &c.

On page 22 a Table (VI.) is given showing the number of Inhabited Houses and the Population in 1891 and 1901 in Dublin City as extended under the Dublin Corporation Act, 1900, and the Urban Districts of Rathmines and Rathgar, Pembroke, Blackrock, and Kingstown; also the changes in the Population therein between 1891 and 1901.

From this Table it appears that the Population of the present City of Dublin increased during the decade by 7.6 per cent.; the increases in the Urban Districts were as follow:—Rathmines and Rathgar 16.8 per cent.; Pembroke, 6.4 per cent.; Blackrock, 3.8 per cent.; and Kingstown, 1.0 per cent.; the total Population of the City and the Urban Districts named increased between 1891 and 1901 by 7.9 per cent.

The Population of the City, as constituted previous to the extension under the Act of 1900, is 260,035, being an increase of 15,084 or 6.1 per cent. as compared with the Population on the same area in 1891.

TOWNS HAVING, IN 1891, A POPULATION EXCEEDING 10,000.

Table VII., on p. 22, gives a list of 14 Towns (exclusive of Dublin and the Urban Districts referred to in the preceding paragraph) which had in 1891 a Population exceeding 10,000. The largest of these Towns is Belfast, having in 1891 a Population of 273,079, which in 1901 had increased to 348,965, an increment of 27·8 per cent.; the smallest of the Towns in this Table, according to the Population of 1891, is Sligo, which then had a Population of 10,374; in 1901 its Inhabitants number 10,862, or an increase of 5·7 per cent.

TOWN POPULATIONS.

The following Statement shows the Towns having in 1891 a Population of 10,000 or upwards; the Parliamentary Boroughs; and the Urban Districts of Rathmines and Rathgar, Pembroke, Blackrock, and Kingstown, arranged according to their Percentage of Increase or Decrease of Population between 1891 and 1901.

Town Populations.

From this Table it will be observed that the largest Per-centage (27·8) of Increase of Population between 1891 and 1901 was in Belfast; and the next (20·0) in Londonderry.

The greatest Per-centage (0·9) of Decrease would appear to have taken place in Drogheda; Lisburn presents the next highest Per-centage (6·5) of Decrease.

In submitting the foregoing statement to your Excellency, we beg especially to point out that the numbers are not extracted from the original documents under our direct supervision, but are totals compiled from Summaries prepared by the Enumerators. Many small errors may have crept in owing to various causes; these errors will be detected and inquired into when the original papers are examined, and some slight differences will probably be found between the revised numbers and those contained in the present Abstract. This is especially likely to be true in the case of the smaller Religious Denominations where many queries must be issued, and replied to, before it is finally ascertained that each individual has described himself with sufficient accuracy to enable us to tabulate him under the denomination with which he considers himself connected.

We are glad to be able to state that the detailed part of the work is being rapidly proceeded with, and we trust that at an early date we shall be able to submit to your Excellency the first of the County Books, which will be followed by others with as little delay as possible.

We have the honour to be,
